"I can feel Jane all around me... A really wonderful experience." Liz Buzza, Manitoba

Bath's most famous resident

"Jane Austen is perhaps the best known and best loved of Bath's many famous residents. She paid two long visits here towards the end of the eighteenth century and from 1801 to 1806 Bath was her home."

Her intimate knowledge of the city is reflected in two of her novels, 'Northanger Abbey' and 'Persuasion', which are largely set in Bath.

The city remains much as Jane Austen knew it; the streets and buildings recalling the elegant, well-ordered world that she portrays so brilliantly in her novels. Now the pleasure of exploring Jane Austen's Bath can be enhanced by visiting the Jane Austen Centre. Here, in a Georgian town house in the heart of the city, the visitor can find out more about the importance of Bath in Jane Austen's life and work."

About the exhibition

Your Centre Guide will bring the Jane Austen story to life. Every visit to the Centre begins with a live introductory talk.

See exhibits that explore Jane's life in Bath, her family, places of residence and Bath society. Admire elegant reproductions of Regency day and evening wear.

Learn about the main entertainments of the day; dancing, socialising, gossiping, card games and tea drinking.

At the end of your visit you can relax and reflect for a moment whilst enjoying a pot of real leaf tea and maybe some home made cake upstairs in our award winning Regency Tea Room.

Inside the Exhibition

Tea with Mr. Darcy?

Morning coffee, light lunch, Cream Tea and snacks

Regency Tea Room

Set on the second floor of The Jane Austen Centre is our elegant Regency Tea Room which has achieved the Tea Guild's 'Award of Excellence'. This ensures that our visitors receive the highest quality tea, food and service.

Taking tea and cakes in the Tea Rooms is very much part of your visit to the Jane Austen Centre. Our Tea Room has a lovely period atmosphere and very friendly staff and we very much look forward to your visit.
